Miss McPherson is a Charming Lady Who Will Not Winter Here.

Engagement of Editor McMichael' Son Campbell and Miss Harrison of Philadelphia - Society News.

There is frequent and widely expressed regret that Senator McPherson and his family, have planned to spend the winter on the Pacific coast. There are few young women in society who would be so heartly missed as Miss McPherson, who, during her short experience, has made herself very popular. Of coarse, in the West there will be new fields to conquer, but she assures everyone that she leaves the old fields everyone that she leaves the old fields with genuine regret.

Some one asked me the other day if the cigarette bubbt was on the increase in Washington. I couldn't say, because I don't know, but I imagine it holds its own. As a matter offact, not one woman int wenty who smokes really enjoys it, and smokes only because it is a bit naug'ity and unusual. And those was eajoy it nost are the very ones who wouldnever be suspected of doing anything so ultra.

There is a wealthy spinster in the West End, who is connected with nearly every chastly in the city, and who reads crudite papers to sympathetic audiences of learned men and dever women, who has a flourishing sewing class of poor young girls, and in a hundred ways is a help to her kind, who ma hundred ways is a help to her kind, who smokes a, pack, at least, of Turkish cig-arettes every day. She invariably has them passed with the coffee after dinner, and lights one herself so simply and naturally that one forgets the incongruity of it all, and the cloud of smoke which wreathes her intellectual Tace seems the most natural thing in the world.

Mr. and Mrs. 8. J. Radeliffe and their two daughters have returned to the city, and are at the Litchfield.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McPherson will leave tonight for Atlanta, when, after a brief stay, they will continue farther South, re-maining in St. Augustine for the Christmas holidays.

Miss Hattle Ricker, of South Washington, will spend her Thanksgiving holidays with a former schoolmate on Bolivar Heights, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Alien invited a number of their friends to their pretty bome on the Biadensburg road yesternlay to witness the christening ceremony of their infant son, Paul Eugene.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Alien, Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Margaret L. Alien, Miss Mand Tinker, Mr. H. F. Holman and Mr. Edgar Wade.

Mrs. E. G. McArthur, who has been visit ing her girlhood's home in Arizona, will teturn to the city tonight.

Mass Effic Benson gave a pretty butterfly party last night at her home on Capitol Hill. A novel feature of the evening's pleasure was a butterfly dance by Miss Elsie Ganl and a be reed by Master Harry G. Webber. The pariors were fragrant with buge bowks of cut roses and carnations, and in every niche and corner were backets of giant palms. The table was a danity arrangement of fruit, bon-bons and fronted cakes, and the music for the evening was furnished by Mr. Frank Howard, Lawrence Steinberg and Harry B. Reynolds, on the pano, guitar and violin.

Among the guess present were Miss Macy McDonoeigh, Miss Ora Wise, Miss Kuttle White, Miss Mand Steinberg, Misses Nora and Minnie Carter, Miss Iou Waite, Miss Effic Shelton, Mr. John Howard, Mr. Frank Patuson, Mr. Engene Towers, Mr. Morton Deval, Mr. Fred, Burke, Mr. John H. The engagement is announced of Campbell Emory McMichael, son of the proprietor of the Philadelphia North American, and Miss Elien Nixon Harrison, daughter of Charles C. Harrison, provost of the University of Pennsylvania.

This is a very notable announcement in Philadelphia, and will unite two prominent families, each distinguished and influential. Mr. McMichael is handsome, young and manly, with a brilliant future before him. Miss Harrison, besides attractions that might dower any girl, is intellectual and sensible and popular, in fact, in the general estimation, one of the greatest of Philadelphia's belies.

There were about a hundred at the dance given by MF, and Mrs. John R. Drexel, of Philadelphia, at the Waldorf, in New York, on Thursday night. It was in the finest Waldorf style, very elegant, of course. The majority present were New Yorkers, and the pake and Duchess of Marlhorough put in an appearance, but came late.

The members of the Woodbury Club gave their first full-dress ball of the season in honor of the ladies who are friends of the members. Thursday evening, at Carroll institute. The hall was profusely decorated with flowers, and the dainty costumes of the ladies lent a fairy-like appearance to the occasion. Just before adjourning to supper a German was successfully danced. Among those present were the Misses Mondheim, Heidenheimer, Stern, Lotta Kaufman, Peyser, Heilburn, Benthelm, Blumenthal and Gradwohl.

Mrs. John B. Hammond of Twelfth street southwest, gave a musicale Wednesday evening at her home for the benefit of the chanel at Colonial Beach. The programme included Mrs. Daisy L. Fox, pianist; Miss Mattle Gray and Miss Cushing, of the Metropolitan Chorek choir, and Messrs. Howling and Belt. The house was artistically decreated with chrysanthemoma from the Colonial Beach gardens, and a dainty table was spread.

Mrs. E. G. Morrow and her daughter Miss Fanny Morrow of Thirteenth street northwest, will return to the city this morning.

Mrs. Regnier, who has been a recent guest of Mrs. J. Kelley of N street north-west, has returned to her home in Phila-delphia.

Many in Need of Food and Fire.

SAD CASE OF A YOUNG GIBL

She Came Here to Get a Government Position, Failed and Was Starving. One Woman Taken Out of the Clutches of a Usurer-No Funds on Hand to Relieve Applicants.

The cold damp weather of the past few days is beginning to make the poor of the District apply for help from the police and other sources. Aircady innumerable calls for assistance have been received by Chief Clerk Sylvester, of the police department. The destitute are also making application at the station house in the precinct in which they live, and the licatenants of the precincts asked this morning how much could be allowed them toward helping the needy.

needy. Mr. Sylvester says that there is no money with which to help the people, but that in extraordinary cases food and fuel will be given them.

One of the saddest cases that have yet come to the notice of Mr. Sylvester was that of a young lady about seventeen years old. She had absolutely no means, and had had She had absolutely no means, and had had no food for some time.

She came here a short time ago with the expectation of getting a Government position, but when sic arrived found it impossible to do so.

SHE NEEDED HELP.

SHE NEEDED HELP.

She came from Boston, and is a well educated and refined young woman. She has been living in a room on one of the principal business streets of the city. She was netped out.

Mr. Sylvester said that in all probability she will obtain employment in a few days in a printing bouse. This, he thinks, was one of the most deserving cases that have come to his notice this winter.

Another case was that of a widow who was living in the normand. She has two children and was without food or fuel and was threatened with ejectment. She was given all that could be spared her, and it is not thought that she will be ejected for some time, as Mr. Sylvester has written the landlord.

Another widow living on New Jersey arms and a sambatton to Mr. Sylvester has the Sylvester.

Another widow living on New Jersey avenue made application to Mr. Sylvester for aid. She was an intelligent looking woman, and stated that it was the first time she had ever applied for assistance. She was at one time employed in the government printery, but was discharged and has since been anable to get back. She was given fuel and provisions.

IN A INSIDER'S CLUTCHES.

IN A USURER'S CLUTCHES. IN A USURER'S CLUTCHES.

Another case of destitution resulting from a discharge from the Government Printing Office was that of a widow who had mortgaged her furniture to a usurer and who was about to take it away from her. She had no food or fuel. She was given both, and the usurer was written to and told that he could not take the furniture. Mr. Sylvester says the police department will protect the woman and her furniture.

department will protect the woman and her formiture.

A family living in the Southeast was sent to the police department by the Central Union Mission people. The mother has been sick with rheamatism for about three mooths, and yesterday she and her three children had nothing to cat and very little fire. She was given food and coal.

Another case was that of a woman who had been described by her busband, had no fire or food, and was expecting to be confined in a few days. She was given assistance.

OTHERS WHO ARE IN WANT.

An old woman who was dismissed from the Government Printing Office when the wholesale discharge was made last summer, was another applicant for help. She is very old, and has nad neither food nor fire for several days. She has had to rely upon the generosity of her neighbors, as she was unable to get out of bed on account of rheamatism. She was assisted.

A man who is well educated applied for help this morning. He says that he has one child, and that the room in which they live is so damp that a fire has to be kept going all the time. He has rheumatic roubles, and wanted fuel. He go'll.

As all the cases coming to Mr. Sylvester are investigated by the police, there is no chance for fraud. He gets ibnumerable letters every day from imposters. The latest wanted the loan of enough money to start a store. It is needless to say that it was not given him. OTHERS WHO ARE IN WANT.

SHE SPEAKS SEVEN LANGUAGES. Scrubwoman at a Chicago Hotel Who

"I came down to the office at 2 o'clock this morning, and there was a peculiar-looking man standing in front of the desk. His baggage was covered with a collection of pasters put on so freely that I se the man down as a wealthy tourist. Nigh the man down as a wealthy tourist. Night Clerk Sullivan did not appear to pay much attention to the guest, and I at once step-ped up and asked bim why he didn't send the man up to a room.

"There's one in the building who speaks

'There's one in the bullding who speaks six or seven languages, that's all. She has six or seven languages, that s all. She has helped me out many a time."
"We had our guest tended to all right a moment after the arrist of the scrubbing-brush came. The tourist turned out to be a Russian. He came from some place near Vladivostokikowsky, and if that woman is not afflicted with a disherted last it is not afflicted with a dislocated law it is because her superior maxillary is vulcan ized."—Chicago News.

My Lady's Feet.

It is said that the ladies of Madrid Peruvians and Chilians come next.

The Russians have heavy splay feet. American ladies from the United States nave a reputation in Paris for small feet. It is impossible to classify those of Vienna, as there are so many varieties. The Empress of Austria requires a long, narrow shoe. She has no flesh to speak of on her foot and her instep is high. The best-shaped feet in northern Europe come from Sweden. German ladies are usually neatly shod.

English ladies have large feet and awk-wardly made boots. The Belgian ladies are better off as to shoemakers, but they have large feeet. Jewish ladies-in Paris, at least-have small feet and are particular about their shoes and stockings. Bona Bertha, wife of Don Carlos, shows her Breton descent, as she wears a small 6 in size.

Empress Josephine's slippers show that those of Marie Louise prove that she could "put her foot in it" with a vengeance. It is a trick at the French watering places for the ladies to have small shoes and boots made to order, which they stand outside of their door for the porter to clean, the shoes having been daubed with a liquid mud. Frenchmen have a hab-it of scrutinizing the shoes in the hallways of the hotels and admiring the owners of supposedly tiny feet.

Long Island People Remember Him us a Shoemaker and Later a Fireman on a Steamer.

Denver, Nov. 16.-The latest reports opcerning the missing Francis Schlatter. 'The Healer," are to the effect that he has been seen miking his way toward the mountains on foot.

A local paper claims to have evidence that he has gone to the ranch of Ed Rooney, near Golden, to rest before taking up his work again. There is hardly any doubt but that Schlatter is in that vicinity. Schlatter's strange departure from Denver, where he has been creating a furore by his feats of mind reading and healing, aroused great regret and created a sensa-tion. He became known at the "New Myssiah."

He blessed handkerchiefs and it was He blessed handkerchiefs and it was claimed that anyone touching these hand-kerchiefs would be cured of any disease. Farmer Derr Postpones His Marriage to Buy One.

Guests Had All Assembled and Dinner Was Being Prepared When Aunouncement Was Made.

Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 16 -A sensation was created here Thursday night at the home of Henry Dunderf, where a wedding was to have taken place. The bride-to-be was Mr. Dundorf's daughter, Rosa, and Joseph Derr, a farmer, residing at Ptainfield, Derr, a farmer, residing at Piainfield, was the recalcitrant groom.

The guests had arrived and the wedding dinner was in preparation at the Dundorf home, but the groom did not arrive, and the bride began shedding tears. Then the groom appeared and in a bissness-like way informed the girl and her father that the marriage would have to be postponed, as the money he had saved-to-ward defraying wedding expenses he now intended to use in the purchase of a cow. Derr then left the house.

Cure for Shaking Palsy.

People afflicted with shaking palsy are greatly relieved by traveling long journeys in fast trains. The greater the oscillation the better they are. Dr. Charcot, noticing this, has had a chair made to which a rapid side-to-side movement is given by electricity. The effect is to give a healthy man musea, but a palsied patient enjoys it, and after a quarter of an hour in it is a different man. He stretches his limbs, loses fatigue and enjoys a good night's rest afterwards.
